

IRSQ
Industrial Relations Society of Queensland

IRSQ BREAKFAST SERIES

THE 2017 IR YEAR IN REVIEW... AND TRENDS TO WATCH OUT FOR IN 2018

Andrew Herbert, pre-eminent barrister practising in the area of industrial and employment law, will provide breakfast attendees with a review of major events in the IR field from 2017, looking at some of the impacts of the new State Industrial Relations Act, the emerging decisions in the Fair Work Commission regarding the “fairly chosen” aspects of making Agreements, and some of the industrial ramifications of the #MeToo movement.

Book today to secure your seat at the IRSQ’s first of many events for 2018.

Tuesday 20 February 2018

7:00am for 7:30-9:00am event
Novotel Brisbane Hotel

$60 IRSQ members
$90 Non-Members

CLICK HERE TO BOOK NOW

ENQUIRIES

Cameron Armstrong
Society Administration Officer
irsq@irsq.asn.au or tel 07 3420 6323

GUEST SPEAKER

Andrew Herbert
Barrister-at-Law

Andrew is one of Australia’s leading barristers practising in the areas of industrial and employment law. Andrew has been practicing at the Queensland bar since 1977, specialising in industrial law throughout Australia since about 1985.

He acts for industrial clients from all sides of the debate, including employers, unions, employees and governments.

